

IMPACT OF COVID-19 ON STAKEHOLDER MEETINGS

Impetus Digital recently surveyed its customers and followers* to determine the impact COVID-19 has had on their internal and external stakeholder meetings. Key findings are summarized below.

COVID-19 has impacted both imminent and future external & internal stakeholder meetings

Short synchronous web meetings are the most popular approach to “virtualizing” in-person meetings

COVID-19 has quickly accelerated the uptake of virtual collaboration, with long-lasting effects

Likelihood of conducting virtual meetings and events before vs. during vs. after COVID-19

Need expert help "virtualizing" your stakeholder meetings and events?
Book a demo of our secure and engaging collaboration platform at impetusdigital.com. Follow us on LinkedIn, Twitter, and Facebook.

Impetus Digital is the spark behind sustained healthcare stakeholder communication, collaboration, education, and insight-synthesis.

Our best-in-class technology and professional services ensure that life science organizations around the world can easily and cost-effectively grow and prosper—from brand or idea discovery to development, commercialization, execution, and beyond—in collaboration with colleagues, customers, healthcare providers, payers, and patients.

*Responders comprised a variety of pharmaceutical functions and job titles, with the majority working in Medical Affairs (37.5%) and Marketing (18.8%).